

Business Case Services

Helping firms make the right strategic decisions first time

Our business case service has been developed to ensure you make informed decisions before embarking on key strategic initiatives.

Using our experienced industry professionals, we help you present a compelling business case to senior management for focussing on ensuring you see a true return on your investment.

- Use our modular approach to the due diligence process based around building a business case for each initiative within the business.
- The service is based on the Axxsys Axxelerators, which include using the Axxsys standard Total Cost of Ownership Model and a standard methodology and template to produce the business case.
- Identifies project risks and assumptions.
- Allows you to review multiple alternatives; outsourcing versus in-house solutions versus status quo.
- We provide specialist domain experts who also have a strong background in due diligence consultancy and Axxsys tools ensuring the business case is produced efficiently and with the correct assumptions.

According to reports,
25% of technology projects fail outright.
20-25% don't show any return on investment.
50% need massive reworking by the time they're finished.
